Short and long term issues for water in Queensland

Elizabeth will set the scene by describing the 50 year plan for water in South East Queensland. She will explain the 140 campaign and how we compare to other water-frugal countries around the world. She will finish by covering changes to the building code in SEQ to drive more efficient use of water. It will be a great opportunity to ask questions.

Guest Speaker: Elizabeth Nosworthy AO –
Chair of the Queensland Water Commission

SYDNEY

Will residential land supply be sufficient for next upturn in Sydney?

Following five years of very low levels of new residential lot production in Sydney, the NSW Government has given the Growth Centres Commission the task of managing the future land releases in the North West and South West sectors. How is this process proceeding and will there be sufficient land released to meet an expected sharp upturn in residential land demand from 2009/10?

Guest Speaker: Mr Angus Dawson –
CEO, Growth Centres Commission

MELBOURNE

Tuesday 16 September
RACV CITY CLUB
501 Bourke Street

State politics and key issues affecting business in Victoria

Labor is in its third term in office in Victoria ... but it has a first term Premier, John Brumby and he has some clear challenges. Water and the Environment; Transport and Infrastructure; and Education. Commonwealth State relations will have a significant impact on how these matters are resolved; and the opportunity to blame Canberra no longer exists. How these issues are resolved will have a major impact on business.

Guest Speaker: Kathy Bowlen –
Presenter, ABC Stateline Victoria

PERTH

Friday 19 September
HYATT REGENCY
99 Adelaide Terrace
Lunch: Gershwins

Infrastructure development and emerging issues facing WA

WA's booming economy is driving the nation. But sustaining the boom requires a massive infrastructure program. To this end the State will invest a record $26.1 billion over the next four years – but significant challenges remain. It will be a great opportunity to ask questions.

Guest Speaker: Minister Eric Ripper –
Deputy Premier, Treasurer, Minister for State Development
